Waiting times

The VRE clinic is a highly specialised service, accepting referrals from all over the country. Due to some patients requiring surgery on the same day they are referred to the clinic, we cannot operate on a first-come, first-served policy. The length of time you may have to wait for treatment will depend on how many patients need to be treated and the seriousness of your condition. Please note, if your condition can be treated by laser, you will need to wait until all patients have been seen and diagnosed.

Primary care and follow-up patients

You may be discharged after your first visit, but you might need a further appointment in the Moorfields' outpatient VR clinic. Details of follow-up appointments will be posted to you.

Surgery patients

The order of the operating list is decided by your priority of need for surgery, which can change throughout the day. All patients are referred to as an 'emergency' – however your surgeon will decide whether the operation needs to be done immediately, or whether it can wait. Moorfields is a day surgery hospital, so you should be discharged home on the same day – but you may need to return the next morning for a review to check that everything is okay.

Operations can be done under local or general anaesthetic:

- Local anaesthetic patients can eat and drink as normal and take regular medications as usual. You will generally be able to travel home alone.

• General anaesthetic patients can eat a light breakfast before 7am if their surgery is scheduled on a week day, but must fast from midnight if surgery is scheduled for a weekend or bank holiday. You will need to be escorted home and arrange for someone to stay with you overnight after your operation. Further information on this will be given to you by the nurse in clinic.

On the day of your surgery, please take your regular medications as usual, bringing them with you to the hospital. Diabetic patients who are fasting in preparation for general anaesthesia should call us for diabetic medication advice on 020 7566 2590.
